Supply List for Workshop with Kim Minichiello

“Bold & Dynamic Watercolor”

If you have painted in watercolor before bring what you have: palette, brushes, artist grade paints and masking fluid. I use a John Pike Palette for large mixing area. Brushes I use listed below.

For the Yellow Bromeliad

Paints for Workshop:
If I have indicated a manufacturer, the paint is only available from that place or it is one I prefer.

Aureolin Yellow (a cool yellow)
New Gamboge, Winsor & Newton (a warm yellow)
Quinacridone Gold, Winsor & Newton
Permanent Rose (for florals I like Sennelier or Mission)
Permanent Magenta (optional)
Indigo, Holbein
Sap Green
If you have it Skip’s Green (American Journey Cheap Joe’s Art Stuff brand)
Phthalo Green (You won’t need Skip’s Green if you have this)

For the Water Lily
Some of the above and the following:
Quinacridone Burnt Orange
Carbazole Violet or Dioxazine Purple
Ultramarine Blue
Cobalt Blue
Green Gold, American Journey Cheap Joe’s Art Stuff brand
Verditer Blue, Holbein

Brushes:
Bring what you have. I am listing what I use and the sizes. You do not have to buy these brushes if they are not in your budget or you have similar sizes.

Escoda Perla or Prado: #14
Escoda Perla or Prado: #4
Escoda Prado: Angular Flat #14
3/8" flat hog bristle or any type of stiff bristle scrubbing brush
An old toothbrush

Please note: I have only been able to find the Escoda Perla brushes on line at Dick Blick.com
Paper:
1/8 sheet of 140 lb. cold press (for an exercise) and one sheet of 300 lb. cold press paper, I use Arches. Paintings will be painted at 12.5” x 12.5” A 12” x 12” format is also fine.

Misc.
Pebeo Drawing Gum Masking fluid, small bottle
Old #4 brush to apply masking fluid or your preferred tool for applying mask
Mechanical pencil, kneaded eraser, and a Rubber Cement Pick-Up
2 large water containers, I use empty 35 oz. yogurt containers
1 roll paper towel, I like Viva
Old bathroom hand towel
Palette, or a few pure white dinner plates or butchers tray to mix color on (I use a John Pike Watercolor Palette)

Any questions please contact instructor at: KimMinichielloArt@me.com